Our wands relieve pain by delivering sophisticated combinations of Subtle Energy (zero point energy) to the body's energetic field in order to clear energy blockages, which create pain and dis-ease.

Core Principles of Energy Healing

Energy healing involves non-physical aspects of our being, working at what is known as the "subtle" level. When we work at these non-physical, or subtle, levels in response to unwanted symptoms and conditions, we engage the field of energy healing.

When your energy is in harmony, you are in a natural state of physical and emotional well-being. When your energy is out of balance, various symptoms of disease, discomfort, and disorder can arise.

These products can be used by the ordinary person to clear their own energy blockage and reduce pain.

"I have been using my wand for almost a month now. I find that I don't have to have chiropractic adjustments, and/or other healing help. It is the greatest tool for healing I know about. Thanks for bringing it to me."

The Auricfield Infusion Process™ was invented by our chief scientist, a Quantum Physicist. It is a proprietary combination of subtle energy patterns, specifically designed to enhance healing of the human body at the sub-atomic level. This technology involves a three-part process comprised of a 'tunable generator' that has the unique ability to:

1. Record custom subtle energy patterns from any substance.
2. Store these patterns in an extensive computerized library.
3. Infuse these carefully recombined energy patterns into our products.

The Infinity Line of Pendants employ the same Auricfield Infusion Technology as our Wands.

The Energy Patterns vary depending upon the Pendants purpose.

Wearing a Pendant, in conjunction with wand use, will speed recovery by balancing the body's overall energetic system as it clears blockages.

For anyone who suffers from issues such as stress, anxiety, depression, or similar psychological issues: choose Bliss.

For all others, Pranic Balance is the appropriate choice.

"It took a few weeks of wearing Bliss for me to fully acknowledge it's impact. However, I am now convinced the improvement in my mood and outlook on life is attributable to this wonderful pendant. Daljit Banga, Hong Kong
